

Puke Wolf – Everything From Nothing

The idea of Puke Wolf began in 2014 as four individuals came together to create some sort of music. Four turned into three eventually, because of geographical differences, and the band has stayed like that to this day. Genres aren't very important, what's important, though, is the complete release of energy and emotion as the trio produces music. All three contribute on the vocal side, each more extreme than the other, hoping to attain a cathartic experience that resonates with the listener. It's fast-paced, ugly and beautiful at the same time, and entirely up to the listener to interpret.

In the spring of 2019 the band released their first physical release on vinyl; the EP Everything Comes From Nothing which features six tracks. The band recorded it themselves, while Emil - already a skilled producer - took on the task of mixing the album. The EP was mastered by Michael Briggs (La Dispute, Tiny Moving Parts, Tera Melos).
